Your first dance as a married couple is a uniquely intimate moment during an otherwise public day. While your friends and family will be watching you and your new husband rocksoftly (or show off smooth choreographed moves), the two of you will be the only ones on the dance floor. Without a doubt, it is one of the most intimate, joyous moments of your wedding day, and the first occasion you both have to enjoy your newly minted status as husband and wife. For some couples, choosing a meaningful, expressive first dance song is the easiest part of their wedding-planning process. It's the soundtrack to their relationship, the song played in the background of their first kiss, or the lyrics that blared on a busy restaurant on their first day. For others, the decision is not so simple. Whether you have opposite musical tastes or just can't settle on a song that defines you as a couple, we're here to help. We found 64 song choices from real weddings that are sure to inspire you for your foray on the dance floor. From popular classics like Etta James's At Last to more contemporary picks like a mash-up of Beyoncé and Van Morrison or Calvin Harris techno hits, these creative couples know how to begin their reception of entitlement. Whether you choose to dance to something timeless or something much more topical, the most important detail is that the song feels right for you as a couple. 01 of 64 At their New York City art gallery wedding, Megan and Timmy chose So Happy Together by the Turtles for their romantic first dance. 02 of 64 Jessica and Stratton chose Take Care of the Beach House for their emotional first dance at their California wedding. 03 of 64 Ashley and Michael hit the dance floor to Van Morrison's Someone Like You at their New Orleans wedding. 04 of 64 Sara and Zahir didn't want anything to slow down their wedding reception in Montauk, New York—not even a slow song for the bride and groom's first dance. That's why they chose Calvin Harris's up-tempo dance beat Feel So Close to You Right Now. 06 of 64 Carly and Eric took dance lessons for their New York City wedding and settled on a mash-up of Signed, Sealed, Delivered by Stevie Wonder, Crazy Love by Van Morrison, and Crazy in Love by Beyoncé for their choreographed numbers. 07 of 64 U2's In a Little While was background music for Emily and Luke's confetti-filled first dance at their Toronto, Canada wedding. 08 of 64 The Bride's Sister belted out Etta James' classic At Last for Kimberly's first dance with husband Stephen at their Sonoma, California wedding. 09 of 64 Katie and Greg's first dance at their Ojai, California wedding was punctuated with the sound of the bride's cousin playing Louis Armstrong's Kiss to Build a Dream On on trumpet! 10 of 64 Alicia and Lance hosted an elegant Atlanta wedding (complete with a helicopter getaway!), so their first dance must be special. They chose Share My Life by Kem for their opening spin as husband and wife. 11 64 High school sweethearts Mariel and Jack did a custom mash-up song for their first dance at their New York City wedding. They went out and started dancing to Norah Jones' Come Away With Me before transitioning to Queens You're My Best Friend, when they invited their entire wedding party to join them on the dance floor. 12 of 64 To begin their life together as husband and wife, April and Matthew danced to Garth Brooks Shameless at their Denver wedding. 13 of 64 While Cristina and Mark hit the dance floor to Joshua Radin's You Got What I Need at their Napa Valley wedding, there was another special song they added to their playlist. Both our parents married the same year and had the same first dance song, Cristina explains. Of course we played this song for all of us to dance to. 14 of 64 College sweethearts Andrea and Carl chose their song for their first dance, although it was a non-traditional pick. Their selection of Heaven by DJ Sammy helped them transition straight into a party atmosphere at their Sacramento, California reception. 15 of 64 Beautiful Day Photography Daisy and Justin showed off their dance prowess to the sound of Frank Sinatra's I've Got You Under My Skin at their destination wedding in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico. 16 of 64 Casey and Dan met and fell in love when they were only 14 years old. They decided to dance to Fred Astaire's famous The Way You Look Tonight. 20 of 64 At Linda and Sean's Malibu, California wedding, Dave Matthews Band hit You and I filled their reception space as the couple danced. 21 of 64 While Casey and Pat's public first dance was to Elvis Presley's Can't Help Falling in Love With You, the couple also shared a private dance to the sound of Shannon Rovers, a group of bag pipers, at their Glenview, Illinois wedding. 22 of 64 Melissa and David waltzed to Kings of Leon's hit Use Somebody atop a custom petal-patterned dance floor that, the bride reveals, took hours to design and even longer to install, at their Beverly Hills, California wedding. 23 of 64 At their vineyard wedding in Winters, California, college sweethearts Mary and Mark danced to the Save Room by John Legend, a song that the groom had put on a mixtape for his future bride back when they were still just friends. 24 of 64 Katie and Chris riffed to Let's Get Lost by Chet Baker, which was spun by the bride's brother on their wedding in Tulum, Mexico. 25 of 64 Exactly a year after getting engaged, Jeff dipped his new bride Kate during his first dance to These Arms of Mine by Otis Redding at their Fair Haven, New Jersey wedding. 26 of 64 Erin and Brett chose Barry White's catchy song Can't Get Enough of Your Love for their first dance as husband and wife because they wanted a light-hearted song playing at the beginning of their Hudson Valley, New York Wedding. 27 of 64 Meghan and Andrew shared their first dance to On a Night Like This by Dave Barnes at their Dana Point, California wedding. The song held particular importance because we fell in love with this song after watching Dave perform live in Austin, the bride said. 28 of 64 Sara and Chris chose to share a first dance to Fischer's I Will Love You at their Dana Point, California wedding. 29 of 64 Alison Conklin Photography Sarah and Scott shared their first dance to the Pete Saunders Band rendition of Diana Ross's Love You More Today Than Yesterday at their wedding at New York City's University Club. 30 out of 64 For their first dance at their Palm Springs wedding, Natali and Brian chose Otis Redding's That's How Strong My Love Is, spun by DJ Chris Paul, who also provided the evening's soundtrack. 31 of 64 Candace and Philippe, who married in Washington, D.C. shared their first dance as a married couple to Stevie Wonder's Ribbon In the Sky. 32 of 64 Amanda and Pablo took to the dance floor for the first time as a married couple to Frank Sinatra's classic Fly Me to the Moon at their Brooklyn, New York wedding. 33 of 64 Ali and Rob selected Sister Hazel's 90s tune All For You for their meaningful first dance at their wedding in Miami, Florida. 34 of 64 Foodie couple Breana and Scott danced to You Are Loved by Josh Phillips Folk Festival at their Napa Valley wedding. 35 of 64 Betsy and John chose the classic Louis Armstrong song What a Wonderful World for their first dance. Southtown Fever, a 12-piece band, laid the music at their Clearwater, Florida wedding. 36 of 64 Kristen and Lev wowed the audience during their first dance to Ben Harper's song Forever before inviting guests to join them on the dance floor at their New Jersey wedding. 37 of 64 Sarah and Kimo took to the dance floor to The Avett Brothers Swept Away for their first dance at their wedding in Sonoma, California. 38 of 64 Pei Pei and Christian wanted to stick to the European theme of their Italian destination wedding with their first dance song, so they chose Blue Danube Waltz by Johann Strauss. 39 out of 64 As two members of portland-based band Parson Red Heads, the California Stars covered wilco, Emily and Cory enjoyed their first dance at their Oregon wedding. 40 of 64 Angelica and Everto stepped out onto the dance floor for the beautiful Mexican song Por Debajo de la Mesa by Luis Miguel at their Southern California wedding. He sings the most romantic boleros, and the song resonates well with our love story, the bride The song means under the table—but the song isn't what you're thinking! 41 of 64 For their first dance at their New York City wedding, Laura and Ernesto chose a Spanish-language song in honor of the groom's Uruguayan heritage. He's a Mexican music icon, Laura says of Luis Miguel, who sang Amarte es un Placer. The lyrics to this song are so romantic. 42 of 64 Maria and Casey danced to Al Green's romantic song Let's Stay Together performed by the Don Hanson Orchestra at their Philadelphia wedding. Since Casey plays scissors, we wanted to find a band with a strong horn section. In addition, the group's repertoire was phenomenal, says Maria. 43 of 64 Jacqueline and David danced the night away with guests at their New York City wedding to a 10-piece band from Craig Scott Entertainment after taking to the floor for their first dance to Michael Bubl 's Crazy Love. 44 of 64 Lauren and Brad had a country flavored first dance at their blue-hued reception in Montana. They chose Brad Paisley's Then for their moment on the dance floor. 45 of 64 High school sweethearts Nicole and Brian had their first dance to Jason Mraz's song I Won't Give Up at their New Jersey wedding. 46 of 64 After Sarah and Beth danced to Michael Bubl 's Everything for their first dance, the newlyweds and their guests gathered around a bonfire at their Denver, Colorado wedding. 47 of 64 After Katherine and Ken danced to Louise Armstrong's classic song La Vie en Rose, the music continued throughout the evening at their wedding in Washington, D.C. 48 of 64 Sarah and David danced to the Jimmy Church Band's rendition of Ray LaMontagne's You Are the Best Thing at their Philadelphia wedding. 49 out of 64 For their first dance, Erica and Guillaume chose Etta James' classic At Last, performed by Rhythm Nation at their Sarasota, Florida wedding. Guillaume surprised me by swinging me into a dip—he was so professional about it, as if he had been doing it for years, erica says. It's one of my favorite memories of the night. 50 out of 64 For Kate and Michael's first dance, guests joined them on the dance floor as the Bill Magee Blues Band performed Ben E. King's Stand By Me at their Santa Barbara, California wedding. 51 of 64 Liz and Jake chose Otis Redding's song That's How Strong My Love Is for their first dance at their San Francisco wedding. DJ Sol played pop, hip-hop, and basically everything people could groove to! says Liz. To see our families and friends from different parts of our lives dance out their hearts was so much fun. 52 of 64 For their first dance at their Detroit wedding, Sarah and David opted for Into My Arms by Nick Cave and Bad Seeds. Music was spun by DJ Mike Rundel from Mike Staff Productions. 53 of 64 At their Houston, Texas wedding, Paige and Matt performed a sweet first dance to Nothing Can Change this love of Sam Cooke. 54 of 64 Mallorie and Dan shared their first dance as husband and wife of Lady Antebellum's song When You Got a Good Thing on their York City wedding. Afterwards, Hank Lane Music & Productions held guests on the dance floor all night. 55 of 64 Sarah and Juan shared their first dance to John Legend's song Stay With You. Music was provided by Bud Maltin Metropolitan Music at their Barnegat Bay, New Jersey wedding. 56 out of 64 For their first dance, Larke and Jonathan chose Willie Nelson's tune I'd Have to Be Crazy, spun by a DJ from Fantasy Productions DJ Entertainment at their Califon, New Jersey wedding. 57 out of 64 For their first dance, Ferrill and Rob chose the Beatles song I Will, which was played by the Bucktown All-Stars at their Pensacola, Florida wedding. 58 out of 64 For their first dance at their seaside wedding in Darien, Connecticut, Josie and Jack chose Van Morrison's classic song Crazy Love. Afterwards, everyone flooded the dance floor to enjoy a mix of songs played by Big City Swing. 59 out of 64 For their first dance at their Hartland, Michigan wedding, Jennifer and Chad chose a song they had heard the day they met, choosing Only You, performed by their friend, Liz Momblanco. 60 of 64 Emily and John's first dance was to Frank Sinatra's standard Fly Me to the Moon, performed by the band Jumpstart at their glamorous Palm Springs wedding. 61 of 64 For her Glenview, Illinois wedding to Matt, Hollyn organized an iPod playlist for the couple's reception that she still listens to, she said. The couple waltzed to Lady Antebellum's Can't Take My Eyes Off You for their first dance. 62 of 64 Elizabeth and Louis didn't want a large band crowding their limited outdoor tent space at their Washington, D.C. wedding, so they hired five musicians to keep guests on the dance floor all night long. They learned our first dance song, Grow Old With Me by the Post, and they nailed it, Elizabeth says. 63 of 64 KT and Chad were all smiles during their first dance at their Lake Tahoe wedding. They were working on a choreographed routine set to Bubl 's hit song Everything. 64 of 64 Alison and Justin shared their first dance as husband and wife of Lady Antebellum's song Just a Kiss during their wedding in North Carolina's Outer Banks. The bride says: We choreographed our first dance and made an elevator for our guests.
